Except No Serious Damage
WICHITA, Kan., June 9.—The advance crest of the Colorado flood waters sweeping down the Arkansas river will reach here about midnight tonight, according to the calculations made by H. P. Peterson, federal weather forecaster. A total rise between seven and eight feet over the next two days was predicted, but the weather bureau announced no serious flood damage need be feared here.

wage earner has to support so many non-producers, so many elements that through manipulations must benefit by his labors, that the ultimate cost of what he produces really has no relation to the cost of production due to the wage paid.

Urges Home Building Campaign
The aggregate wage paid to building workers is not high nor responsible for the high cost of buildings, said the labor leader who blamed the high cost of living on "high financing, excessive overheads, excessive profits, combinations organized through the years just passed, that now indifferent to economic conditions still are practicing their nefarious schemes to protect one and the other at the cost of the consumer."

Urging that a campaign of home building should be inaugurated at once, he said, it can be done more expeditiously and cheaper now than in the recent past or in the near future.

Now is the opportune time to build homes," added the speaker. "Banks should remove any obstacle in the way of borrowers and make their loans inviting to those who would build. Material men should remove restrictions and effects of combinations from the cost of homes. Labor should insure efficiency."

He predicted that building operations will resume with a rush in the near future.

SEES LITTLE HOPE FOR TRADE REVIVAL ON FOREIGN MARKET

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, June 9.—World economic conditions during May pointed to no immediate general business revival, according to the monthly summaries from its foreign representatives issued tonight by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Considerable improvement financially was noted in Europe but trade and shipping were dull with marked industrial difficulties apparent in some countries. In the far east, improvement was reported slight and in South America the situation was declared practically unchanged, but with a less confident tone to future prospects.

While money is easier in Great Britain, the coal strike has caused a general stagnation of trade and industry, the London report declared. The industrial situation probably has never been worse, the report continued, with over 2,000,000 persons idle.

France appears satisfied with the success of the $100,000,000 loan floated in the United States and feels it will permit payment of debts previously contracted in this country, the Paris report asserted.

Evidences of a revival in Belgian industries affected by the British coal strike were reported from Brussels.

A decreased foreign trade together with an acute industrial crisis resulting from decreased prices were regarded as outstanding developments in Italy.

The financial situation appears to be improving in Germany, the Berlin report declared, but the industrial situation is being hampered by the Silesian trouble and consequent coal shortage. Marked activities in establishing agencies in Austria, by British, East Indian and Japanese interests was noted.

A revival of industrial activity in China was offset by depressed commodity markets and a small silk crop, according to the Peking report, while economic conditions in Japan were said to show only a slight improvement, though the financial situation was better.

Except for improvement in the government finances, economic conditions in Mexico were reported practically unchanged.

An important product of China is wood oil, which is used as a substitute for linseed oil.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO HALTED BY OIL DECREE

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A new element was injected into the Mexican question today through formal protest to the state department by American oil operators against the 25 per cent in taxes on petroleum under a decree issued in Mexico since negotiations for the drawing of a treaty of amity and commerce were begun. In some circles the opinion was expressed that this situation might have to be faced before final adjustment could be made of the more basic question of diplomatic relations between the two governments.

Although uninformed officially of the statement issued in Mexico City last night in which it was asserted President Obregon could not sign such a treaty as has been proposed by the United States as a condition of recognition, it was learned that publication of the statement occasioned no surprise here. It was intimated that Obregon's recent answer to the proposals of the state department was of a similar character. This communication has not yet been replied to and it was indicated would not be except by George T. Summerlin, charge d'affaires, in his conversations at Mexico City. Officials, it was said, look for the negotiations to be concluded successfully.

The statement follows:
"No treaty will be authorized for the extradition of political offenders, or of offenders of the common law, who have been slaves in the country where the offense was committed. Nor shall any agreement or treaty be entered into which abridges or modifies the guarantees and rights which this constitution grants to the individual and to the citizen."

The state department has authorized George T. Summerlin, American charge at Mexico City, to make public the text of the statement issued by the state department Tuesday in which was enunciated the American policy.

Negotiations looking to the drafting of a treaty between Mexico and the United States have been restricted to conversations between Mr. Summerlin and Alberto Pani, the Mexican foreign minister. Reports of Mr. Summerlin to the state department, it was learned, have indicated that with the exception of one conference, he had not seen President Obregon.

That Mr. Summerlin has been discussing the question at issue with the foreign minister rather than the Mexican president was not regarded here as deeply significant.

Say U. S. Proposals Rejected
MEXICO CITY, June 9.—What purports to be a history of the series of communications between Mexico City and Washington is printed by newspapers. It asserts that several weeks ago representatives of President Harding approached President Obregon with the suggestion that a joint commission be formed to discuss recognition. President Obregon is said to have told the American emissaries that he could not accede to such a proposal, whereupon the envoys withdrew and within a few hours George T. Summerlin, the American charge, who was then in Washington, was started for Mexico City with the state department memorandum, which he presented May 27. This memo is declared to be unacceptable in its entirety, as its political sections call on Mexico to make what are asserted to be impossible changes in its constitution. One of the principal changes is the modification of article 27, which deals with oil rights.

There is much speculation regarding the tenor of the note expected from Washington, answering President Obregon's communication of Friday. The tenor of the situation is indicated by the fact that all Mexico City publishers had an agreement to meet Foreign Secretary Pani today, at which conference the relations between the United States and Mexico were discussed.

Warns Big Business Against Efforts To Smash Labor Unions

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—James J. Davis, secretary of labor, addressing the National Hardwood Lumber association in convention here today, sounded a warning against "efforts on the part of big business to smash labor unions." The secretary outlined the reversal in industrial conditions in the last five years and observed that in the inevitable readjustment, "the farmer was the first hit, and he should have been the last."

"Labor unions," Secretary Davis declared, "are an organic growth of the times. If you smash them, you will have in their place secret radical organizations which will lead directly to the revolutionary spirit which is unsettling Europe."

taxes of the boxers is due to the surtax on the difference between $100,000 and $200,000. Dempsey, however, possesses an advantage in that he will have a year in which to pay in quarterly installments, the first payment due March 15, 1922. Carpenter, before he sails, must pay every dollar.

Government profits on the bout also include the ten per cent amusement tax enacted by federal authorities which will amount to approximately $100,000. New Jersey will exact a like sum.

Promoter Tex Rickard, whose profits may be $100,000, will be taxed an amount which will bring the total government revenue from the encounter to considerably more than half a million dollars.

Here is where the mob at Tulsa, Okla., first applied the torch. Other buildings in the negro section were fired later and the flames rapidly spread until they wiped out the homes of several thousand persons, most of them negroes. Small picture shows a negro woman being taken from the burned district under protection of guardsmen.

The mob spirit died quickly when National Guard troops took command at the Tulsa, Oklahoma, riots and the city turned to taking care of the homeless. Negroes, who were rushed to the ball park for protection, are shown receiving food at kitchens set up in the open by citizens.

FAMOUS BOW MAKER IS DEAD

Did you know that "Tubbs of Soho" in London is dead?

Perhaps you never heard of "Tubbs of Soho," and yet he was with Giuseppe Tartini, famous in the violin world as a maker of bows. Kreisler, Botticini, Gompertz, the Strausses, everybody used to go to him for bows. He lived in a little house in the heart of the Soho district, which corresponds in a sense to Montmartre of Paris.

Did you ever realize how much a fine bow had to do with the power of even the greatest violinist to give us the music of the masters in that entrancing manner which carries us out of the maelstrom and toll of life? Ask any of the great ones if they would rather have a poor violin and a fine bow or a fine violin and a poor bow. With a fine bow and nimble fingers I have heard some of the great ones produce from an ordinary, cheap violin music that was entrancing—Musical America.

To commemorate the termination of the war, the coinage of "peace" dollars of an appropriate design is proposed in a bill recently introduced in the house.
